Abstract

PAyPE network â€"network for Learning Processes and Educational Practices- is conceived as an interuniversity excellence network oriented at the study and improvement of instructional processes in different scenarios, contexts, and educational practices. The networkâ€™s activities concern three axis: education, research, and academic and professional exchange.

PAyPE has received the support of the Centro de Altos Estudios Universitarios de la OrganizaciÃ³n de Estados Iberoamericanos, within the broader goal of fostering an Iberoamerican Knowledge Space through the creation of interinstitutional networks.

The germinal group, responsible for the design, promotion and development of this net, is composed by academic staff of the following institutions: Universidad de Barcelona, EspaÃ±a (coordination); Universidad de Costa Rica, Costa Rica; Universidad Nacional AutÃ³noma de MÃ©xico, MÃ©xico; Universidad del Valle, Colombia; Universidad TecnolÃ³gica de Pereira, Colombia; Universidad de Quilmes, Argentina; Universidad Nacional de RÃo Negro, Argentina; and Universidad de Los Lagos, Chile.
